Debt Payoff Tracker & Elimination Roadmap

Know Exactly Where You Stand — And Watch It Disappear
By Warren Davis | TheBlueprintDaily

Most people know they have debt. Few know exactly how much, at what rates, and in what order to pay it off. This tracker fixes all of that. When you see your debt clearly — every account, every rate, every payment — it loses its power over you.

STEP 1 — LIST ALL YOUR DEBTS

#	Debt Name / Creditor	Type	Balance	APR %	Min. Payment	Due Date
1			$	%	$
2			$	%	$
3			$	%	$
4			$	%	$
5			$	%	$
6			$	%	$
7			$	%	$
8			$	%	$
9			$	%	$
10			$	%	$
T O T A L			$

STEP 2 — CHOOSE YOUR PAYOFF METHOD

Pay highest interest rate first. Best for saving the most money overall.	Pay lowest balance first. Best for quick wins and motivation.
☐ I'm choosing the Avalanche method	☐ I'm choosing the Snowball method

STEP 3 — PRIORITIZED PAYOFF ORDER

3rd		$	%
4th		$	%
5th		$	%
6th		$	%
7th		$	%
8th		$	%

STRATEGIES TO ACCELERATE PAYOFF

1. The $1-a-Day Rule

Find one thing to cut per day — that's $30/month, $360/year straight to debt.

2. Sell Something

Old phone, clothes, electronics — apply 100% to debt.

3. Income Spikes

Every bonus, tax refund, or side hustle payout — debt first, no exceptions.

4. Call for Rate Reductions

Call your credit card company and ask for a lower rate. It works more often than people think.

5. Stop Adding to the Pile

While in payoff mode, no new debt. Not even 'good deals.'

6. Tell Someone Your Goal

Accountability is free and more powerful than any app.

You didn't get into debt overnight. You won't get out overnight. But every payment moves you forward — and that's the only direction that matters.
